Why Specify TimberTech?

Made from a special blend of recycled hardwood and pure polymer, TimberTech is the perfect decking material for external areas.

Combining style and longevity, TimberTech resists sun and water damage. It doesn't split, rot, crack, warp or splinter. TimberTech is resistant to mildew and moss and it also has a slip-resistant finish, so it's significantly safer when wet than traditional decking.

Architect for the Care Home projects Mr Steven Fryer, of Rotherham County Council stated:

"Originally traditional timber decking was specified, however the clients main criteria was that the product be slip-resistant. The initial slip-resistant product selected was deemed too slippery for the residents of the homes, and TimberTech's slip-resistant qualities were tested and seen as an ideal choice for these two projects".

Ease of Installation

Remarkably easy to install, with little waste TimberTech requires virtually no maintenance, and the range is available in a variety of non-fade colours and finishes, all backed with a 25 year guarantee.

Planner Ken Allsop of Henry Boot Construction UK Ltd who worked on the Davies Court Care Home in Dinnington said of the product selection,

"Timbertech proved to be a cost effective solution in comparison to traditional slip resistant timber decking, was easy to install, had excellent slip-resistance criteria, and the end user benefits from a minimal maintenance programme".

Site Manager for the Lord Hardy Court Care Home, Chris Duffy from Mansells Build Ltd said

"TimberTech was ideal for the Rawmarsh project as it was easy to install, kept waste to a minimum, and overall was a great product for the job".

TimberTech have also recently decked out the Gibraltar House Nursing and Residential Home in Monmouth, as well as First Care Nursing Home Group in Dublin.
